

MERE BOYS HELD IN POLICE CELLS CONTRARY TO LAW

today, will be laid before the civil service commission and also before the juvenile court.

First attention was directed to the matter by Principal Isaac M. Cox of Kalia-waena school, who found one of his boys, Robert Kahanani, aged 11, in jail and told a startling story to Honolulu of his acquaintance. This story he reiterated to the Star-Bulletin this morning, with amplification.

Robert had the double misfortune last week to be not only taken to jail by the police, but also to be the wrong boy wanted for a charge of assault on another boy, according to Mr. Cox.

Why the police would arrest and hold for five days an 11-year-old lad, small for his age, as Robert is, for an alleged assault on a boy nearly twice as large as Robert, Mr. Cox is unable to understand. Why they should keep the little fellow behind the bars, with no recourse to the law, and without an opportunity to acquaint his father and friends of his plight is a source of further amazement.

"I heard that Robert was in jail," explained Mr. Cox today, "through his teacher in my school. She, in turn, had been told of his detention by his fellow schoolmates. I went at once to the jail and asked why he was held. Deputy Sheriff Asch told me he was detained upon order of the juvenile court, that he was only one of several similar cases and that he had been in jail a shorter time than any of them. Mr. Asch said he would be glad to give the boy into my care, and I took him away."

Juvenile Court Didn't Know. Mr. Cox went to the clerk of the juvenile court, he continued, and asked why Robert had been remanded to the city jail. The clerk is said to have declared that he had no knowledge of such a case.

From several stories, which bear each other out in main details, it seems that Robert's trouble came about in the park near Kalia chapel last week, when he resented the attempts of some larger boys to put him and his friends out of the park when he (Robert) had obtained permission to play there. It is told on good authority to Mr. Cox that instead of Robert knocking down and hating another boy, the latter really did this to Robert. It is also claimed that the larger boy then made complaint to the police that little 11-year-old Robert had assaulted him and induced them to come in the patrol and take Robert to the city jail, where he was held until Mr. Cox took him away yesterday.

Four other boys were in jail with Robert, according to the story the latter told Mr. Cox after his release. Two of them were smaller than Robert. One of the boys had been in two days over two weeks and another two days over a week, according to Robert. He said one had been thrown in jail for attacking a coconut. When asked how he was treated in jail, Robert said he had lots to eat.

Robert's mother is dead and his father was working away from home at the time of the arrest. Mr. Cox said today that the father either did not know of Robert's arrest, or could not leave his job to look it up. In any event he did not come to the rescue of his son and the boy might have stayed there indefinitely had not Mr. Cox learned of his plight from the other pupils. Robert says his father came once to the jail but did not see him; why, he does not know.

PROOF OF SOBRIETY BRINGS SUSPENSION OF COURT SESSION

Antics of drunken joy-riders doesn't seem to be a part of Police Magistrate J. M. Monsarrat's creed. The only point the judge wished to be sure of in the case of Donald Kent, before him this morning, was whether or not the defendant was under the influence of liquor.

Kent was arrested Sunday by the police for running into a Japanese woman with his auto. On Monday the trial was postponed until today. It had been said that Kent was drunk, but when the judge was convinced that such was not the case he acted upon the suggestion of Prosecutor Charles F. Chillingworth and suspended a three months' sentence.

"Preservation of Our Street Trees" is the topic of a lecture which Prof. J. E. Illingworth of the College of Hawaii will deliver before a meeting of the Outdoor Circle next Tuesday afternoon. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, Lunalilo, and Victoria streets, and will begin at 3 o'clock.

FLAT RATES FOR WATER IN VOGUE OVER IN KANEONE

20,000 Fine Forest Trees Guard
New Water Supply Develop-
oped By Wm. Henry

Meters may encourage the saving of water, but the instruments are not in vogue over in Kaneone among the people who have piped to their homes a supply of fresh water from the source recently discovered and developed by former High Sheriff William Henry.

Mr. Henry, who was a visitor in town today, says that about 7000 feet of pipe line has been installed, and that the spring is flowing at the rate of about 200,000 gallons a day.

To serve as a watershed, Mr. Henry has planted 20,000 forest trees, including ironwood, silky maple, eucalyptus, plum and several species of flowering trees.

The water now is being supplied to about 150 persons at a flat rate.

"Everything is fine on the other side of the island," says Mr. Henry. "We didn't display any of our babies during Baby Week, but I believe we have better babies over there than in Honolulu, due to the fine climate. I think the babies would average about seven points above par."

ELECTION FIGHT DRAGGED BEFORE MAIN COMMITTEE

"Tammany Hall" in Pauahi street—in other words the office of "Johnny" Wilson, national committeeman—will be the scene on the evening of May 13 of what is expected to be a lively meeting of the Democratic central committee.

It was stated at the McCandless-Wilson headquarters today that some fireworks may be touched off, but just what form they will take has not been intimated.

The meeting probably will bring to a focus the squabble between the McCandless-Wilson and Pinkham factions since the primary elections. First on the docket for consideration will be the appeal of Attorney Eugene Murphy of Wailuku, who is protesting against the finding of the Maui county committee in awarding the Valley Island election to Dr. J. H. Raymond, candidate for delegate to the national convention, and his alternate.

A protest by High Sheriff W. P. Jarrett, who claims that he, and not Wilson, should be given the certificate as national committeeman, also may be looked into.

J. H. Wilson, present national committeeman, who claims that he was rightly reelected, stated today that there is no question as to his own reelection.

"Jarrett has filed no protest with the Hawaii county committee," he says. "That is, as far as I have been informed. Furthermore, I know of no reason why the election on Hawaii should be in his favor. The Hawaii county committee has notified the central committee that it has recognized only two precincts on the Big Island as being qualified to hold elections, whereas Jarrett claims that they all were qualified to hold elections and that he won out on the island by a majority of about 53 votes."

The McCandless-Wilson faction hold that there were only two precincts on Hawaii which lived up to the rules of the Democratic party in holding their elections. Eight or nine precincts on the island of Kauai have been thrown out, and also several precincts on this island, for the alleged reason that the elections were irregular, in that they were not in compliance with the by-laws of the party.

Wilson today declared that he is leading Jarrett by a majority of about 200 votes, and that he will leave here in the steamer Matsonia on May 30 for the national convention. Others who intend to leave on the Matsonia are Ollie Shipman, delegate from Hawaii; L. L. McCandless, M. C. Pacheco and Jesse Uluhi, delegates from Oahu; J. S. Chandler, delegate from Kauai and either Morris Keokakole or Dr. Raymond as delegate from Maui.

In case the ruling of the central committee is not favorable to the Pinkham faction, there is some talk that both Murphy and Jarrett will go to St. Louis with the other Democrats to press their cases before the national convention.

QUEER BEASTS WILL PLEASE FETE CROWD

Trained Wild Animal Circus to Be Cherry Blossom
Fete Feature

Twenty-four "wild" animals, count them—24! Such will be Edgar S. Barry's Wild Animal Show, which will be put on Friday evening at 7:30, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and Saturday night at 7:30, in the Royal Hawaiian Hotel grounds, as part of the Cherry Blossom Fete.

There will be a lion like the kind Teddy Roosevelt has spent hundreds of dollars to catch. The eight-foot giraffe, the willing jackass who will carry all children under six years of age around the ring, the funny clown with his Chaplinesque antics, the grizzly bear of California who will give the little ones a real bear-hug, the white polar bear who will do a fox-trot with the grizzly—and many other features will make the show interesting.

Among the other "animals" secured to entertain the crowd are Puss-in-Boots, the big frog who stands five feet and eight inches high, the ferocious Bengal tiger who has to be charmed all the time, the big farmyard duck, the hippopotamus and the rhinoceros, the Chinese dragon, 12 feet long; the big black crow, and others.

Three Shetland ponies, the real thing, ridden by jockey riders, will give an exhibition race of three times around the ring. Barry promises that the person picking the winner will be given the pony to take home. The race will start at 3:30 and 8:30 p. m.

Music will be furnished by a Zobo Band of 10 performers, picked from Troop 5 of the Boy Scouts.

A big trapeze, tumbling, and chair-trick stunt is also on the program. There is also a Shetland pony who can add eight numbers and give the correct answer.
